THE SABBATH SCHOOL VISITOR

THE Visitor is Edited by the Rev Asa Bullard, Secretary Mass S S. Society and published at Boston, Monthly; each number containing 24 pages with a piece of Music, prepared for the work by Lowell Mason, Prof of the Boston Academy of Music, and at least one engraving; and at expense at 50 cents a year in advance The Society have found it necessary, in order to prevent losses, to adopt this rule, not to send the Visitor to any one, except Agents who become responsible, till the subscription is received.

This work is published for the purpose of aiding parents and teachers in the religious instruction of the young, and of interesting children and youth and also adults, in the study of the Bible

The object of this article is to request Ministers, Superintendents and other friends of Sabbath Schools, to lend their influence in extending the circulation of this little work in their respective Societies Schools and families The SEVENTH volume commences with January next

The subscriber is Agent for the Work and will receive subscriptions and deliver the numbers at BANGOR, free of any expense of freighage, to the subscribers.

A little effort would very much increase the circulation of the Visitor and it is believed greatly aid those who are laboring for the welfare of the young Will not Superintendents especially, use their influence the present month to introduce this periodical into their respective schools?

The subscriber is also Agent for all the Publications of the Mass S S Society and they can be had at No 6, Smith's Block, Bangor, at the Society's prices E F DUREN 2in D18

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

BANGOR WHIG.

[illegible] JANUARY 16, 1839.

[Correspondence of the Whig & Courier.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9, 1839.

In the House, this morning,

Mr. Pope moved a suspension of the rules, in order to take up a bill from the table, extending the pension laws to those engaged in the defence of the Western frontier. Lost, yeas 63, nays 120.

Mr. Bond then resumed the floor, and concluded his remarks in support of the amendment ("ballot") of the Swartwout, &c. Investigation Resolution, offered and modified by Mr. Cambreleng.

Mr. Taylor of New-York, (L. F.) then took the floor. He was in favor of specific, but not general investigations. He was in favor of the proposed committee but was opposed to the "ballot" proposition. This speech was principally made up out of the "Sub-Treasury" material, having but little reference to the question under consideration.

Mr. Thomas, the plausible gentleman from Maryland, was fulsome in his vocation of endeavoring to vindicate the administration against the remarks of those who had preceded him. He was willing for the committee, but against the amendment, of course.

A good part of his speech was devoted to the attempt to show Samuel Swartwout a Whig and so identified with the Whigs of the country, as to render his defalcations chargeable to that party! He cited the fact that Mr Swartwout was one of the Vice Presidents of a Conservative meeting in the City of New-York. There's logic for you.

Mr. Wise asked how much Swartwout had stolen from the public purse before there was any such party known as the Conservatives? And what Swartwout was, before he was a Conservative?

Mr. Thomas did not answer this at all. He merely reiterated his assertions, and furnished no other proof than that Swartwout, before his defalcations were known or suspected, was brought into occasional political association with the Conservatives of New-York! If the House would not let the Speaker appoint the Committee as usual, Mr. Thomas hoped it would be; by viva voce. He moved to strike out "by ballot," and insert "viva voce."

Mr. Menifee then took the floor, and answered Mr. Thomas in a masterly manner.

Mr. M's was about the best speech as yet made upon this great question of Investigation, in any of its ramifications.

He took off, in the outset, that plausible, deprecatory and fawning manner which characterizes all of Frank Thomas' speeches; that laying of the hand on the heart, and assuring the House how far superior to any secondary or unworthy motives he acts, whenever he addresses the House, and whenever he does any act in the discharge of his public duties.

He drew the attention of the House to the frequent fact, that Mr. Thomas had, in terms, admitted that the responsibility of those defalcations rested on the heads of the Administration party. This was true. It did so. And they must abide by that responsibility. He showed the grounds of Swartwout's first appointment personal favoritism with Gen. Jackson, and refuted the ridiculous notion set up by Mr. Thomas and others, that, because a Whig Senate confirmed him, both times, the blame of his malversations belonged to them. He adverted to the principles laid down on a memorable occasion, by Gen. Jackson, as to the right to keep in office his favorites, under a certain novel construction of his power of nomination. The Whigs are by [illegible] responsible, therefore, for his nomination or confirmation. The Administration of Mr Adams, had been held to be responsible for every default, every malfeasance, every irregularity, in public affairs that had occurred under it. The country was called upon to bear that Administration down, on the ground of alleged abuses which needed reform: And there being charges against the manner in which the Treasury Department had been administered, a committee of that House had been demanded, and had been raised to investigate these alleged abuses. And the question then presented for settlement was precisely that which now occurs: a striking fact. That question was, whether there was an effective system in practice in that department, for the collecting and accounting for the public dues? And what was then the reply to the question? It was one that reflected immortal honor on the then administration, (Mr. Adams'.) The committee could find no grounds in that department, for the charges that had been preferred. The only recommendation they suggested, was the simplification of the forms of the department, a diminution of some of the "checks and balances," which, now, the administration wishes to have increased.

Upon the subject of choosing the committee proposed, by ballot, Mr. Menifee said a few words. He only wanted the unrestrained will of the House to operate in this matter. The country would expect a fair investigation before [illegible]!

After some further remarks, and some also from Mr. Robinson, of Va., on an incidental point,

Mr. Legaie took the floor, and the House adjourned.

[illegible] can be done with this until next week [illegible] special orders, (Mr. Adams,) which take precedence to [illegible] by appointment. There can be no useful [illegible]

Yours truly, &c.

[illegible] HOUSE.

After the presentation of reports, and other incidental morning business, the proposition of Mr. Wise to print 20,000 copies of Document 297, (defaulters in the Treasury) and Doc. 13, (relating to Swartwout's defalcation) came up, in order, being morning house business.

The pending motion was to amend, by Mr. Loomis, by striking out Doc. 297.

Mr. Graves called for a call of the house. On this the yeas and nays were taken and the motion lost.

The question was taken by yeas and nays, on Mr. Loomis's amendment, and that amendment was lost, by a vote of 90 yeas to 112 nays. So the document is yet a part of the resolution.

The Speaker called the order of the day the morning hour having elapsed.

Mr. Mercer hoped that, by general consent, the question might be taken on the resolution.

Mr. Ingham, of the Naval affairs, insisted on the official order, and moved that the house go into Committee of the whole.

Mr. Banks of Va. took the chair.

The first business in order before the Committee was 703. A bill for the extending and improving of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and for constructing a Dry Dock thereat.

Mr. Paynter of Va. moved an amendment providing for the construction of a Dry Dock, (appropriating $100,000) at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Mr. Pickens took strong grounds against the "log-rolling" system of legislating, by tacking amendments to important bills. To this bill as reported, he had no objection. But he would vote against it, if amended as proposed.

Mr. Ingham made some explanations. The New York site had been examined and recommended, repeatedly, for a Dry Dock. He hoped that the gentleman would withdraw his amendment.

Mr Naylor said that the Philadelphia site had also been examined, and a report based thereon, which, at the last session, was presented to Congress.

Mr. Ingham said, not by any authorized officer.

Mr Naylor alluded to the Pennsylvanian, Courriere, the Franklin, &c which had been taken away from Philadelphia, to be finished, by reason of there being, there, no Dry Dock. Such a Dock was required there on every ground. He spoke very highly of the mechanical capacity of that city, and its ability to furnish sailors and marines to the United States. He showed how peculiarly well located was the Navy Yard at Philadelphia, with reference to its interior position, for the purposes of a Dry Dock, &c.

Mr. Mallory (of Norfolk, Va.) should vote for the bill as reported, and not for the amendment. The great use of a Dry Dock was to enable a ship to be repaired, without unloading. This would be impossible at Philadelphia, on account of the difficulty of water access to full vessels.

Mr. Thompson of S. C. took the same grounds in effect. He would go for the Brooklyn Dock, but for no riders. He did even this with reluctance, for he thought that the North had its undue share of these appropriations; and could only do it, as he thought the public exigencies emphatically demanded it.

Mr. Cambreleng made a melancholy statement of the emptiness of the Treasury, and the necessity of keeping clear of any new appropriations. He hoped the amendment would not prevail.

Mr. Parmenter of Mass. made a few remarks. He thought there was no immediate necessity for either of these proposed appropriations.

Mr. Reed supported the bill, as reported.

Mr. Hoffman. After alluding to the obvious propriety of the appropriation proposed by the bill, he appealed to Mr. Naylor not to incumber that bill with an appropriation that would defeat both propositions. He alluded to the fact that the Ohio, already for sea, had gone out of the channel of New York harbor, and that Gedney, the discoverer of the new channel, had said that a full armed and a full rigged frigate could beat out of that channel.

Mr. Sergeant did not think the proposed amendment at all likely to jeopard the bill. He defended the amendment at some length.

Then ensued some more Pennsylvania talk on the subject. After which,

Mr. Dawson of Ga. He spoke of the great inequality with which the South is treated, in the division of appropriations for public works, and opposed both bill and amendment.

Mr. Wise (one of the Naval committee,) said that the committee had waited for proper official reports as to the expediency of more southern locations. There had been no regular Executive report in favor of them. The delegations from those stations of the country owe it to their own negligence in the matter. Mr. Wise said, in conclusion, that he should go against both these appropriations.

Mr. Petrikin [illegible] also opposed to both appropriations proposed.

Mr. Thompson moved an amendment, to strike out the Philadelphia amendment, and insert $100,000 for the purpose of building a dry dock in Pensacola.

Mr. Hoffman made some few remarks in reply to comments on his former observations, which had been made by several members, in the course of the debate. Among other things, he alluded to the hordes of public money which had been poured into Florida, and other southern stations, in offset to what had been expended in the north. Mr. Biddle having alluded to New-York and Pennsylvania as rivals in this particular quarter, Mr. Hoffman [illegible] which he [illegible]

Mr. [illegible] followed, [illegible] Mr. [illegible] and King [illegible] generally, which other south[illegible] gentlemen had done. But he was opposed to the whole system. [illegible] proposition to talk nullification [illegible] he was refused.

After some remarks from several other members,

Mr. Stanley gave notice that, when in order, he should move an amendment, appropriating a proper sum for the establishment of a naval station in North Carolina. He commented on his colleague's (Sheppard's) extremely sectional remarks, with regard to appropriations, and denied that they were just to the North.

Mr. Evans of Maine took the floor to make some remarks, and moved that the committee rise; which prevailed, and the House adjourned.

The Senate had up the Land Bill to-day. I know nothing of the discussion. Mr. Clay spoke.

Truly Yours, &c.

For the Whig & Courier.

BEWARE! Those young gentlemen (?) who insulted and pursued two young ladies from the vicinity of the New England House, up Harlow Street on Friday evening last, and desisted only when a gentleman living on said street kindly interposed his protection to the young ladies, and attended them to their houses, are hereby notified that their names are with the City Marshal, and will be given to the public through the newspapers if such conduct, so destitute of all the characteristics of gentlemen, is repeated.

Bangor, Jan. 15, 1839.

The North Carolina Senators. Messrs Brown and Strange have addressed to the Legislature of North Carolina a letter in reply to the resolutions adopted by that body a few weeks since, indirectly instructing them to oppose the Sub-Treasury, and the pre-emption law, and to vote for a recision of the expunging resolution. In their letter, the Senators decline obeying the instructions, because they do not contain any authoritative command, and by this miserable quibble they mean to justify themselves in retaining their seats.

On the receipt of this letter the Senate immediately passed the following resolution, which was also adopted by the House:

"Resolved, That the Resolutions passed by this General Assembly, and transmitted to our Senators in Congress are sufficiently plain and intelligible to be comprehended by any one desirous of understanding them; that we believe the communication anticipating the reception of said resolutions, and making inquiry as to their meaning, is not in good faith; and that it would be inconsistent with the self-respect of this General Assembly to make any reply to it."

☞ V. W. Smith, Esq. editor of the Onondaga (N. Y.) Standard, a leading administration paper, has withdrawn himself from the political field. He assigns as the reason that "he cannot give an efficient support to the present general administration without doing violence to his conscience."

During the memorable war of the administration upon Mr. Biddle, the Globe exclaimed "the Jackson men love gold." If the legislatures have not since fully established the truth of this remark, we are no judges of the force of evidence.

A NAME. The Woods of Lancashire are a distinguished family for character, wealth, and talent; the eldest son John Wood, has been returned member of Parliament for Preston several times and proved himself a steady supporter of civil and religious liberty. A laughable circumstance once took place upon a trial at Lancashire, where the head of the family, Mr Wood, senior, was examined as a witness. Upon giving his name, Counsel Wood, the judge, addressing the reverend person, said, "Pray, Mr Wood, how do you spell your name?" The old gentleman replied,

O double T
I double O
Double U
Double O D

Upon which the astonished lawgiver laid down his pen, saying it was the most extraordinary name he had ever met with in his life, and, after two or three attempts, declared he was unable to record it. The court was convulsed with laughter. Gardiner's Music and Friends.

LETTER FROM THE HON. FRANCIS O. J. SMITH.

LETTER NO. I.

TO THE ELECTORS OF MAINE:

It is probably known to you all, that during the seven months that have just elapsed I have been absent from the United States.

Within that period an annual election of State and other officers of government has taken place in Maine.

For that election, as it is also known to you, it was the pleasure of a portion of your fellow citizens highly respectable in moral and social worth and deeply interested in the well administration of Government from the extent of their property and business pursuits, however few in number, to form a public Convention for the purpose of declaring their dissent from the extraordinary measures and policy that had been instituted by the present national administration in relation to the collection, safe-keeping and disbursement of the public revenue, and setting forth their reasons for such dissent, notwithstanding their past political relations to the republican party of the State, and their former support of that administration.

I allude to the Convention holden at Bangor on the 26th of July last.

The members of the Convention thus assembled, and thus setting forth their reasons and views, saw fit to select and present to the public my name as their candidate for the office of [illegible] in coming into the support of that of the present incumbent of the office, he being the candidate of a party avowedly opposed to the present national administration in all its measures and policy, and also in preference to supporting the nominee of the administration party, he being known to be the adherent of the particular measure and policy of Government which to them appeared so obnoxious in principle and dangerous in practice.

Of this whole proceeding, however, I neither had or could with any show of reason be supposed by any body to have, the slightest knowledge, either anterior to it, or at the time of it, neither my advice was given, at any period, or [illegible] that Convention, or its proceedings, or [illegible] or consulting to the [illegible] made of my name. [illegible] it was made by a [illegible] in Maine, but out of Maine, [illegible] left the United States [illegible] my weeks before any such Convention was proposed, and that at no period was the slightest evidence adduced [illegible] I was conversant of it, or in any way [illegible] know [illegible] I than [illegible] retained [illegible] to answer than truth and the public good, could represent or treat me in my absence as in any degree responsible for either the acts or declarations of that Convention. I do not doubt that the people at large in the State reasoned precisely in this way on the subject, and entertained correct conclusions respecting my relation to it; and this, notwithstanding all the attempts made by the sinister minded and interested persons, who sought, by misrepresentation of known truths and the suppression of others not made public, to blind and prejudice my fellow citizens against me on the occasion. The first intelligence I had of the Convention, or its proceedings, was at a distance of more than three thousand miles from Maine, across the Atlantic, in the interior of France, and only a few days prior to the period of your annual election.

On reaching the United States, a few days since, I learned with no small surprise the manner in which the occasion of this notoriously unauthorized presentation of my name to the public had been seized upon by the reputed newspaper organs of the administration party in the State, as a pretext for pouring out upon me column after column, and through week after week, the most unfounded misrepresentations and falsehoods, and every species of contumely that festering malignity could invent or corrupted minds could harbor. On looking over files of these publications, I find that they manage (including the late editor) of the Eastern Argus, and the editor of the Augusta Age, have been signally prominent in thus taking advantage of my absence, and of the impossibility of my confronting them at the threshold, to vilify and abuse me. They profess to be the primary organs of the administration party in the State, and of them only need I make mention. The rest are mere sounding boards and below any resentment that I am capable of feeling. But the manner in which, and the circumstances (in part already stated) under which two papers mentioned have been conducted towards me in my absence, imposes upon me an imperious obligation to notice them, to expose the perfidy of them both towards myself and their readers whose credulity has been so grossly abused; and, moreover to enable THE OLD REPUBLICAN PARTY—not the administration party, in this State, to understand to what degradation the reputed presses and professed organs of republican principles in Maine have sunk under the influence of the men now in charge of them.

I wish to be understood. I use the designation of THE OLD REPUBLICAN PARTY, in contradistinction to that of the administration party; because, while I see many individuals now taking not only a guiding share in the affairs of the latter party, but in their name holding many of the most lucrative offices within the gift of the administration, both in Maine and in other States, without in fact ever having any just pretensions of belonging to THE OLD REPUBLICAN PARTY, I also see many of the most consistent and meritorious men that ever served in the ranks of THE OLD REPUBLICAN PARTY no longer associated with, but rudely denounced by, what is termed, the administration party.

Again, let me be understood. While I find myself in a position where the duty is forced upon me of exposing to the broad view of the world the baseness and corruption of the principal administration presses in this State, and in doing this, expose facts in regard to the men and means by whom all the old republican party has heretofore been upheld and sustained here. I can assure my old republican coadjutors, whether they are now ranked in or out of the administration party, that upon them I cast no reproaches and against them prefer no complaint which properly belongs only to the heartless and unprincipled few to whose charge has been, or still is confided their newspaper organs. It is the last, and these last only, who merit public scorn from their conduct for conduct that is marked by dishonesty, destitution of principle and ingratitude black enough to bring into ruinous degradation any set of men who will countenance or attempt to justify it.

Do the mass of the administration party disbelieve that their presses in this State are debased, and that in sustaining them; they sustain men who are knaves at heart, and knaves in practice? men who have violated in every day's practice, the political principles which they profess to uphold, and urge upon you? men whose bread every day is obtained upon the bounty and kindness extended towards them, by the very men and system of public finance that they are abusing?

I propose to spread before you truths which will enable you to appreciate the low standard of character by which the administration presses are wielded in Maine and how little pride politicians of any name or party can feel in their communion with, or confidence in, such presses confining myself, however, to the Argus and Age. This I shall do by the double process of exposing the baseness of the men themselves who have had charge of those papers; and then exposing the falsehoods promulgated in their columns. I will confine myself to their acts, their motives I will leave for future comment and exposition, if necessary.

It is undeniable, that the system of public finance proposed by Mr. Van Buren and advocated by his adherents aims directly at a reduction of all business to both the limits and standard of ready specie capital—by it all banking institutions are to be proportionably crippled, and the credit system proportionably destroyed among men. Reckless partisans of the administration party, who are abusing all opposed to this scheme, may deny that they are hostile to the credit system or to local banking institutions. But with as much reason might they say, while they stab your flesh to the quick, that they mean not spill your blood. The inevitable consequence of the act in each case is like apparent and well known and the hand that inflicts is responsible for the whole injury that ensues.

Now the editor of the Argus, who has been outraging all decency in his abuse of me during my absence from the country, as also the editor of the Augusta Age, who has been doing the same thing, are both noisy partizans of the Van Buren sub-treasury, hard specie, anti-bank [illegible] which strikes down almost the whole credit system—certainly the whole of it among men who have not specie capital and yet are themselves not only illustrious, in point, of their utility to the rising generation of the credit system; but have been most signally dependent upon it for their own bread and for that wherewith to feed their families! And to aggravate the baseness of their inconsistency in this matter, and to mark them more effectually for public scorn, as convicts of hateful ingratitude, the man who is most abused, personally, by them in their war upon the credit and banking system of the country, is no other than the man who has extended to each of the [illegible] in their lives, at [illegible] in the [illegible] from the [illegible] heartless men. The former, H. W. Greene, of the Argus, [illegible] said to have never brought into this State [illegible] amount of five dollars of [illegible] purchased in the Eastern States [illegible] into the State he purchased upon an extended credit of more than two years; and it was of myself that he sought, and of me he received every dollar of that credit. Nay, during the months in which he has been abusing me in the Argus, and while I was both absent from the country and alike ignorant of both his abuse and its shallow pretext, he was feeding himself, and his family, and transacting his whole business, upon the resources of a capital thus sought of me, and thus extended to him by me, by credit, whereof not a dollar, not even the urgent interest of it, had then been repaid. And when on the first day of September last, the notes he was owing me for the capital thus advanced became due, having run without payment since July 1836, [illegible] from this receipt of the credit system and of banks being able to live upon the specie system of no credits and of down with all banks, to which all his predictions lead, not twenty five cents on the dollar of my notes could he pay, but he again threw himself upon both the credit and the banking system for further help, and sought and obtained of the Bank where my notes were deposited a renewed indulgence!

[Conclusion to-morrow.]

A very flattering compliment to the editor of the Democrat Bangor Whig.

GENUINE BUFFALO OIL.

A GIFT FROM THE HAND TO THE HAIR!

The gift of nature to the human body is a splendid head of hair. It has recently been discovered that the genuine Buffalo Oil is a sovereign remedy for baldness, prevents the hair from coming off, promotes the growth, continues the luxuriance, and improves the beauty. It is far superior to any other animal or vegetable oil, and in case of fever, where the hair becomes dry and begins to fall off, there is no application more effectual in arresting its beauty and restoring it in a healthy state.

It is put up at a low price, (37½ cents) that all classes can have access to it. None genuine unless put up in flat bottles, with HAIR OIL impressed in the glass. Also, to prevent imposition, it will be signed by the Proprietor, [illegible] Brown, 241 Washington, corner of Elm Street, N.Y.

EVAN'S CAMOMILE AND APERIENT PILLS.

THE DIFFERENCE.

IT cannot be denied that whilst many medicines which are recommended to the public, have not even the negative merit of harmlessness, there are others which it would be great injustice indeed, and suicidal prejudice to involve untried, in a common condemnation. And when a medicine comes endorsed with all the great names that have adorned the annals of the medical profession, and warranted by the seal and signature of long and uniform success, its proprietor makes no unreasonable demand upon the public confidence, when he claims for it a superior consideration.

The Camomile Preparation by Dr. Wm. Evans is undeniably entitled to this enviable distinction for whilst no medical authority in existence condemns it, every medical practitioner that is acquainted with it, freely acknowledges its pre-eminent virtues and that the latter should do so in opposition to their personal interests, must be attributed either to their candor and love of truth, or to their unwillingness to fly in the face of all observation, and the testimony of thousands.

Dr. W. Evans does not pretend that his Camomile Tonic Pills will cure all diseases. He frankly and conscientiously admits that they will not. He lays no claim to the discovery of the "Philosopher's Stone," and wishes nobody to believe that he sells the "Elixir of Life," but he does say and he does believe, and he can prove, that in debility and impaired constitution; in Nervous diseases of all kinds; in weakness of the digestive organs, in incipient consumptions, whether of the lungs or the liver; in the dreadful debility occasioned by the use of purgatives; in palsy, rheumatism, (more especially) in the sickness incident to mothers, and to females of relaxed nerves; in every case of delirium tremens, or that disease which is brought on by intemperance; in the wretched horrors of body and mind which accrue from occasional inebriety; loss of appetite, languor, melancholy, pain in the head, limbs, or side; in corrupt sallow, and uncomely complexion, caused by the bad state of the fluids in all these cases, and in others mentioned in the bills of directions given with his medicines, HE DOES SAY, that the Camomile Tonic Pills, interchange occasionally with his Aperient Family Pills, (the best known) which are sold with them, will effect immediate relief; and if used but for a fair period of trial a perfect cure. This much is placed beyond a doubt by daily testimonies which would be given on oath, and for this much Dr. W. Evans can conscientiously request confidence. He therefore need only add that his Camomile Tonic Pills, together with his excellent Family Aperient Pills, can be obtained wholesale or retail, at No. 7, Division street near Chatham square, N. York, and his authorized agents in town and country.

Other and more conclusive demonstrations of the efficacy of Dr Evans' Camomile Preparation and Aperient Medicines, are submitted by the following important and extraordinary cures effected by their highly medicinal qualities; all of which may be seen at Dr. Wm. Evans' Medical Office, No. 7, Division street. One or two of these he herewith respectfully gives to a discriminating public.

Dr. Wm. Evans Sir, be pleased to receive the thanks of one who has been a great sufferer for several years, for the great benefits she has received from the virtues of your inestimable Camomile Pills. She has suffered with pain and distress in the head, a lightness across the head, a lightness across the stomach, shortness of breath, and palpitation of the heart; exercise would almost overcome her; but since using your Camomile Tonic Pills, her complaints are removed she is able to exercise without fatigue, and she is happy to say, can enjoy life comfortably again.

Newark, July 18, 1836 Dear Sir, for four years I have been so unwell that I was unable to attend to my business, and for the last 4 or 5 months was confined in my room, my complaints were rheumatism, pains in my stomach, indigestion and loss of appetite, with continued pain and dizziness in my head; I used different kinds of medicines without effect; until I commenced taking your invaluable Camomile and Aperient Pills; their beneficial effects upon me astonish all who knew my situation. In a few days I shall be at your office to express my gratitude to you in person. In the mean time I subscribe myself your most obt servt.
B. S. JARVIS, 13 Centre st.

Dr. Wm. Evans.

Extract of a letter from Jonas Snyder, Postmaster, Knoxville, Pa. to Dr. Wm. Evans. Among several cases "an elderly lady who had been 25 yrs. afflicted with nervous hypochondria, debility &c. that for the last 3 years she constantly received medical aid from a respectable physician, but the pressure and pain on her heart and breast, and especially in her left side, remained immovable, attended at long intervals with weakness in her head and on her mind keeping her discouraged to undertake any thing. In May she commenced using Dr W Evans' Camomile and Family Aperient Pills, according to the direction accompanying them. A reaction took place; the pains and pressure in her body was removed, her mind became clear and strong, her spirits perfectly good, and up to this time is in all respects restored to health, which for the last 10 years she has not enjoyed."
Sept 2, 1836 JONAS SNYDER.

ON LOW SPIRITS. Low spirits is a certain state of the mind, accompanied by indigestion, wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slightest grounds, and the worst consequences imagined. Ancient writers supposed this disease to be confined to those particular regions of the abdomen technically called hypochondria, which are situated on the right or left side of that cavity, whence comes the name hypochondriasis

SYMPTOMS. The common corporeal symptoms are flatulency in the stomach or bowels, acrid eructations, costiveness, spasmodic pains, giddiness, dimness of sight, palpitations, and often an utter inability of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance, or engaging in any thing that demands vigor or courage. Also languidness; the mind becomes irritable, thoughtful, desponding, melancholy and dejected, accompanied with a total derangement of the nervous system. The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imagination and overwhelm the judgment, exhibit an infinite diversity. The wisest and best of men are as open to this affliction as the weakest.

CAUSES. A sedentary life of any kind, especially severe study, protracted to a late hour in the night, and rarely relieved by social intercourse, or exercise, a dissolute habit, great excess in eating and drinking, the immoderate use of mercury, violent purgatives, the suppression of some habitual discharge, or long continued eruption; relaxation or debility of one or more important organs within abdomen, is frequent cause.

TREATMENT The principal objects of treatment are, to remove indigestion, to strengthen the body, and to cheer the spirits, which may be promoted by exercise, early hours, regular meals and pleasant conversation. The bowels (if costive) being carefully regulated by the occasional use of a mild aperient. We know nothing better calculated to obtain this end, than Dr. Wm. Evans' Aperient Pills being mild and certain in their operation. The bowels being once cleansed, his inestimable Camomile Pills, (which are tonic, anodyne, & anti-spasmodic) are an infallible remedy, if without dispute have proved a great blessing to the nervous public.

Some physicians have recommended a free use of mercury but it should not be resorted to, as in many cases it will greatly aggravate symptoms.

THE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for diseases of the Human Constitution, that has ever been discovered.

These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants, and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance Dr. Kingley, the inventor of this valuable medicine, from his knowledge of the human system derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the liver; or in other words an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile.

So well is this understood, that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell, that they are bilious, meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of digestion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state. Dr. Kingley is confident that the famous Hygean Theory, so called, that "impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases," is a great absurdity. Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment, will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary, not a primary complaint the effect, and not the cause of the disease. When the functions of the liver are deranged, and the flow of bile increased, it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance. Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the bile, and to remedy it you must correct the secretion of the liver and restore it to a healthy state.

Dr. Kingley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public, he is actuated more by benevolent than pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show.

Dr. Kingley flatters himself that his long experimenting with vegetable medicines has enabled him to discover the true and only substitute answering all the purpose of mercurials, without any of their attendant evils One great quality of his family Pills is, that they have the alterative principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and bowels by purging, but they regulate the liver, change the morbid secretions, strengthen the digestive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system.

They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dose. They can be taken with safety by persons of any age, and the feeble, the infirm, the nervous and delicate, are [illegible] by their operation, because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness, from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep.

The Family Pills are an invariable remedy for jaundice, sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia, costiveness, sickness of the stomach, heartburn, all bilious complaints, fevers of all kinds, and if taken at the commencement will invariably check their progress, and save the patient from a protracted and dangerous sickness. They are invaluable in nervous and hypochondriacal affections, loss of appetite, and all complaints to which females are subject. They operate as a mild and speedy purge, and are a safe and certain remedy for worms in children.

I might publish a small volume of certificates but consider it unnecessary, as the medicine will recommend itself to all who will make trial of it.
JOHN KINGLEY.

These Pills are put up in neat boxes of two sizes; the small size contains 25 Pills and the retail price is 25 cents, the large size contains 60 Pills, the price is 50 cents.
